

RELATES Newsletter has been born

Systemic Family Therapists grow globally , as well as, new ways of communication.

In this context, RELATES Newsletter has been born. RELATES Newsletter is an on-line publication which aim lies in empowering family therapists in the RELATES Network and providing “continuous training” for its members. RELATES is known as the Spanish and Latin-American Systemic Schools Network.

By reading RELATES Newsletter, therapists will have access to pragmatic topics. Therapists can learn from others therapists’ experiences and improve their therapeutical intelligence with a new range of innovative resources.

Following this point of view, RELATES Newsletter shows videos and articles that were offered by collaborating therapists.

In addition, RELATES Newsletter recommends interesting books that at certain moments were useful for certain therapists in their practices.

Moreover, RELATES Newsletter offers News and an Agenda for the events that take place in RELATES Schools.

Finally, RELATES Newsletter offers a Research Article sponsored by REDES on behalf of RELATES Newsletter readers.

RELATES Newsletter, still in beta version, was first published on-line in June 2011, when the VII RELATES Annual Conference took place in Lima, Peru.

More than 2,000 family therapists from eleven countries read our first RELATES Newsletter volume.

RELATES Newsletter receives currently 30 visits per day. Approximately 50% of these 30 visits belong to repeat users, and approximately the remaining 50% belongs to new visitors. This shows a balance between loyalty and growth.

This rapid growth has been possible due to the communication efforts made by RELATES Schools present in the following countries: Spain, Italy, Portugal, Brasil, Colombia, Chile, Argentina, Uruguay, Peru, Mexico and the United States.

All RELATES Newsletter strength is based on, since the beginning, the clear vision and shared dream of the initial team: Juan Luis Linares, Regina Giraldo, Gustavo Faus, Javier Ortega y Javier Macías.

RELATES Newsletter value lies on its pragmatism for therapy ?? psychology ?? students and professionals that want to be continuously trained. That’s why RELATES Newsletter maintains a close relationship with its users, modifying its design and contents to better satisfy its readers.

On the other hand, RELATES Newsletter is built by family therapists for family therapists. That’s why RELATES Newsletter is the perfect platform for systemic therapists to present (or depict) themselves, communicate and share some of their unique moments of their experiences.

Without any doubt, RELATES Newsletter is the perfect tool for the systemic professional in his/her therapeutical practice. RELATES Newsletter is growing and step-by-step it is gaining a leading position among the Spanish systemic therapists as an useful on-line publication.
